

BUGIS

Komodo and Taka Bonerate National Park aboard Bugis

Labuan Bajo to Labuan Bajo | Komodo and Taka Bonerate

Beyond Komodo lie the little known islands between Flores and Sulawesi, a world of quiet villages, aquamarine lagoons and remote atolls.

Taka Bonerate National Park is part of the Coral Triangle, the richest underwater ecosystem in the world, with exceptional snorkelling and diving on remote, pristine reefs.

There are crystal clear waters, immaculate beaches lined with swaying palm trees, and empty white sand where barbecues are held.

This is the land of the Bajo sea gypsies, who live in houses on stilts by the shore.

Komodo finishes the trip with snorkelling with turtles, reef sharks and manta rays, and a trek hoping for the elusive Komodo dragon.
