Sorong to Sorong | Mioskon and Kri, Yangello, Wofoh and more

Raja Ampat casts a spell on everyone who visits, and this route shows why.

It sits in the heart of the Coral Triangle, the most bio-diverse marine region on earth, with diving that ranges from pelagic drifts to magic muck dives and clear-water mangroves where corals grow right beside the trees.

In the Dampier Strait, pristine coral gardens stretch as far as the eye can see, seamounts rise from the depths like underwater peaks, and clouds of fusiliers, hunting barracuda, patrolling reef sharks and oceanic mantas move through the blue.

Above the water it is just as good, with rain forest on limestone islands, empty white sand bays and a coastline of caves, gorges and hidden rivers.

The people of Raja Ampat still keep their traditional way of life, with music and dancing at community celebrations.

Mioskon and Kri

Mioskon and Kri are just two among the many idyllic islands that lie scattered off the shores of Gam and Waigeo in the heart of the Dampier Strait, one of the most biologically diverse marine environments on Earth.

Yangello

Scuba diving around Yangello is very popular with visiting divers.
The coral-covered ridges, reefs, and seamounts around the island create a number of excellent and exciting dive sites.
One of the most popular seamounts to dive at Yangello is called Mayhem, close to the west side of the island.
This is a current-washed, shallow coral reef for experienced divers seeking a little more adventure.
Dive sites include Citrus Ridge, Mayhem, Batu Dalam, Mangrove Ridge.

STOP 3

Wofoh

Despite the fact that the Wofoh Islands have a limited number of dive sites, they remain a popular destination for visiting yachts.
With easy anchorages, pristine reefs, and sublime beaches, it is not difficult to see why.
The sites at Wofoh are concentrated around the southern tip of the islands; both are excellent and can be combined into a single dive if needed.
Dive sites include Slopes & Swimthrough, Wofoh Wall, Edi's Black Forest.

STOP 4

Aljui Bay

Diving at Aljui is quite different from other locations in Raja Ampat; it is geared much more towards smaller critters than huge schools of fish and vast coral fields.
The edges of the islands in the bay drop very steeply along sloping reefs and walls.
Different species of pygmy seahorses make their lifelong homes on the large fan corals that sprout from the steep reefs.
Dive sites include Purple Passage, Teardrop, Cendana Piers, Ganan South, White Arrow (Bird Wall).

STOP 5

Penemu

Lying just under 15 nautical miles west of Arborek Island, the Penemu Group is a big favourite with visiting yachts.
With numerous exciting land and watersports activities, this island collection has a lot to offer.
Penemu's varied dive sites all feature dazzling, colourful reefs teeming with marine life.
Dive sites include Barracuda Ridge, Galaxy, Batu Rufus, Melissa's Garden, Keruo Channel, Rocky Mountain Way.

STOP 6

Kofiau

The island and lagoon collections of Kofiau and Boo are located on the western boundary of Raja Ampat National Park, and Dewi Nusantara is one of the few yachts to visit them.

Kofiau, the largest island in the two groups, has a well-known critter or muck diving site along the shoreline of the channel that separates it from Deer Island.
Dive sites include Deer Island Channel, Tanjung Wame, Teluk Wambong, Keeim, Sina, Walo Wall & Slope.

STOP 7

Jef Pele, Lili and Kepotsol

The large island of Jef Pele, as well as the nearby Lili and Kepotsol groups, do not suffer from the concentration of divers and yachts that now visit the anchorages and marine attractions further east.
However, they do feature some excellent diving opportunities.
The north-western edge of Jef Pele is home to Kaleidoscope Ridge, the anchorage's signature site.

STOP 8

The Lili and Kepotsol Island Groups

Dive sites include Lili, Toblerone, Kaleidoscope Ridge, Netted Corner, Blue Hole.

STOP 9

Wayil

The Wayil dive sites are mostly clustered around the western end of Wayilbatan Island.

At Wayil, there is something for every level of diver.
Dive sites include Dogleg Ridge, Barracuda Rock, Layer Cake, Elephant Wall, The Four Kings, Gamechanger.

STOP 10

Fiabacet and Boo

This remote corner of the Coral Triangle offers a truly world-class underwater experience that continues to captivate even the most seasoned divers.
Dive sites include Nudi Rock, Tank Rock Boo West, Whale Rock (Fiabacet), Heart of Glass, Boo Rocks (Boo Windows), Boo East.

STOP 11

They are undoubtedly some of the most astonishing and colourful in the entire area.
Dive sites include Andiamo, Warna Berwarna, Candy Store, Fish Finger.

STOP 12

The Sagewin Strait, Batanta

While the southern side of Batanta may lack the postcard-perfect vistas that are often synonymous with Raja Ampat, it more than makes up for it beneath the surface.
This area is renowned among seasoned divers and underwater photographers as one of the region's premier destinations for discovering bizarre, elusive, and utterly fascinating marine critters.
Dive sites include Reflections Cove, Diversity, Happy Ending, Algae Patch, Algae Patch Two.
