Deep South Special, from Malé to Huvadhoo

Malé to Huvadhoo (Kooddoo airport) | Vaavu, Meemu, Thaa, Laamu, Huvadhoo and Fuvahmulah

Explore the deep south of the Maldives on a thirteen night liveaboard adventure from Malé to Huvadhoo, through the Vaavu, Meemu, Thaa, Laamu and Huvadhoo atolls and Fuvahmulah.

Each atoll has its own spectacular dive sites and unique marine encounters.

Dive vibrant coral reefs in crystal clear water with ocean giants, from tiger sharks, great hammerheads, silvertip sharks and thresher sharks to whale sharks, oceanic manta rays, spinner sharks, grey reef sharks, whitetip sharks, blacktip sharks and playful dolphins.

Every dive is an adventure.

Mysterious channels, dramatic vertical walls and wide sandbanks shaped by the currents make the deep south perfect for pelagic encounters, and the route gives you access to some of the most spectacular dive sites in the Maldives.

Your itinerary

DAY 1

Arrival day

The crew greet guests at the airport from 12:00, and for guests who arrive later the transfer is arranged about one to two hours after the flight lands.
To be in time for the boat and safety briefing, arrive at the airport by 16:00.
On board there is a welcome drink, a lime-scented towel and cakes while the tour guide introduces the boat and the plan for the day, and then time to settle into your cabin.
Check in documents are checked at 17:00 and the dive equipment is set up on the dhoni with help from the dive crew.
Dinner is at 18:00, followed by the introduction of the crew and a full safety briefing.
There is no diving on the arrival day.

DAY 2

Days 2 to 13

Two or three dives a day, usually three, from the dhoni, including a night dive on every trip.
Dives are made in self-reliant buddy teams with experienced guides, and the guides brief every dive in English, German, Italian and Spanish.

DAY 13

Last diving day

The final dive is at 07:30 on the day before disembarkation.
Equipment is rinsed in the freshwater tanks and left to dry before packing.
In the afternoon you can visit the island of Huvadhoo, and the evening is for the farewell and dinner.

DAY 14

Departure day

A light breakfast is served and check out at Huvadhoo is between 06:30 and 08:30, with earlier check out available on request.
Late check out is not possible.
Guests with late flights can store luggage at the airport.

GOOD TO KNOW

On land and on the way

Vaavu, Meemu, Thaa and Laamu

Mysterious channels, dramatic vertical walls and expansive sandbanks sculpted by the currents, with coral gardens between the channels.

Huvadhoo and Fuvahmulah

The deep south is the place for the big animals: tiger sharks, great hammerheads, silvertip sharks, thresher sharks, whale sharks, oceanic manta rays, spinner sharks, grey reef, whitetip and blacktip sharks, and playful dolphins.

Diving experience

Divers need at least 60 logged dives, Advanced Open Water or an equivalent certification, and Nitrox certification. Divers who have not dived for more than two years, or who are unsure of their skills, should take a refresher course before the trip, and less experienced divers may be kept from the more challenging sites.

Diving in the deep south

The deep south is for experienced divers. Divers need at least 60 dives, with solid experience in strong currents. At Fuvahmulah the wetsuit should be black, and thin black gloves are asked for, and bright colours are best avoided. Less experienced divers may not be allowed on the more challenging sites, especially at Fuvahmulah.

How the diving works

All dives are guided by experienced dive professionals, and all the diving is on Nitrox. Dives are made in self-reliant buddy teams with experienced guides, and divers must be able to make independent ascents, using a surface marker buoy when necessary. Briefings are in English, German, Italian and Spanish. Dives start from the dhoni, the dive boat. There is no diving on the arrival or departure days, and divers make two or three dives a day, usually three, with a night dive on every trip. The last dive is on the day before disembarkation, and divers should wait 24 hours after the last dive before flying.

Snorkelling

The boat welcomes snorkellers.

WORTH KNOWING

Key notes

Good to know

The route depends on the weather, and the sample itineraries and sites are shown for illustration only. The exact route and dive sites are at the captain's discretion and can change with regulations, weather and logistics.

Good to know

Spare and rental equipment is available on board. The minimum age for divers is 18.

Good to know

Because tiger sharks and bull sharks can come very close, black equipment, black fins, a black hood and a black full-length wetsuit are recommended, and bright colours are best avoided.
