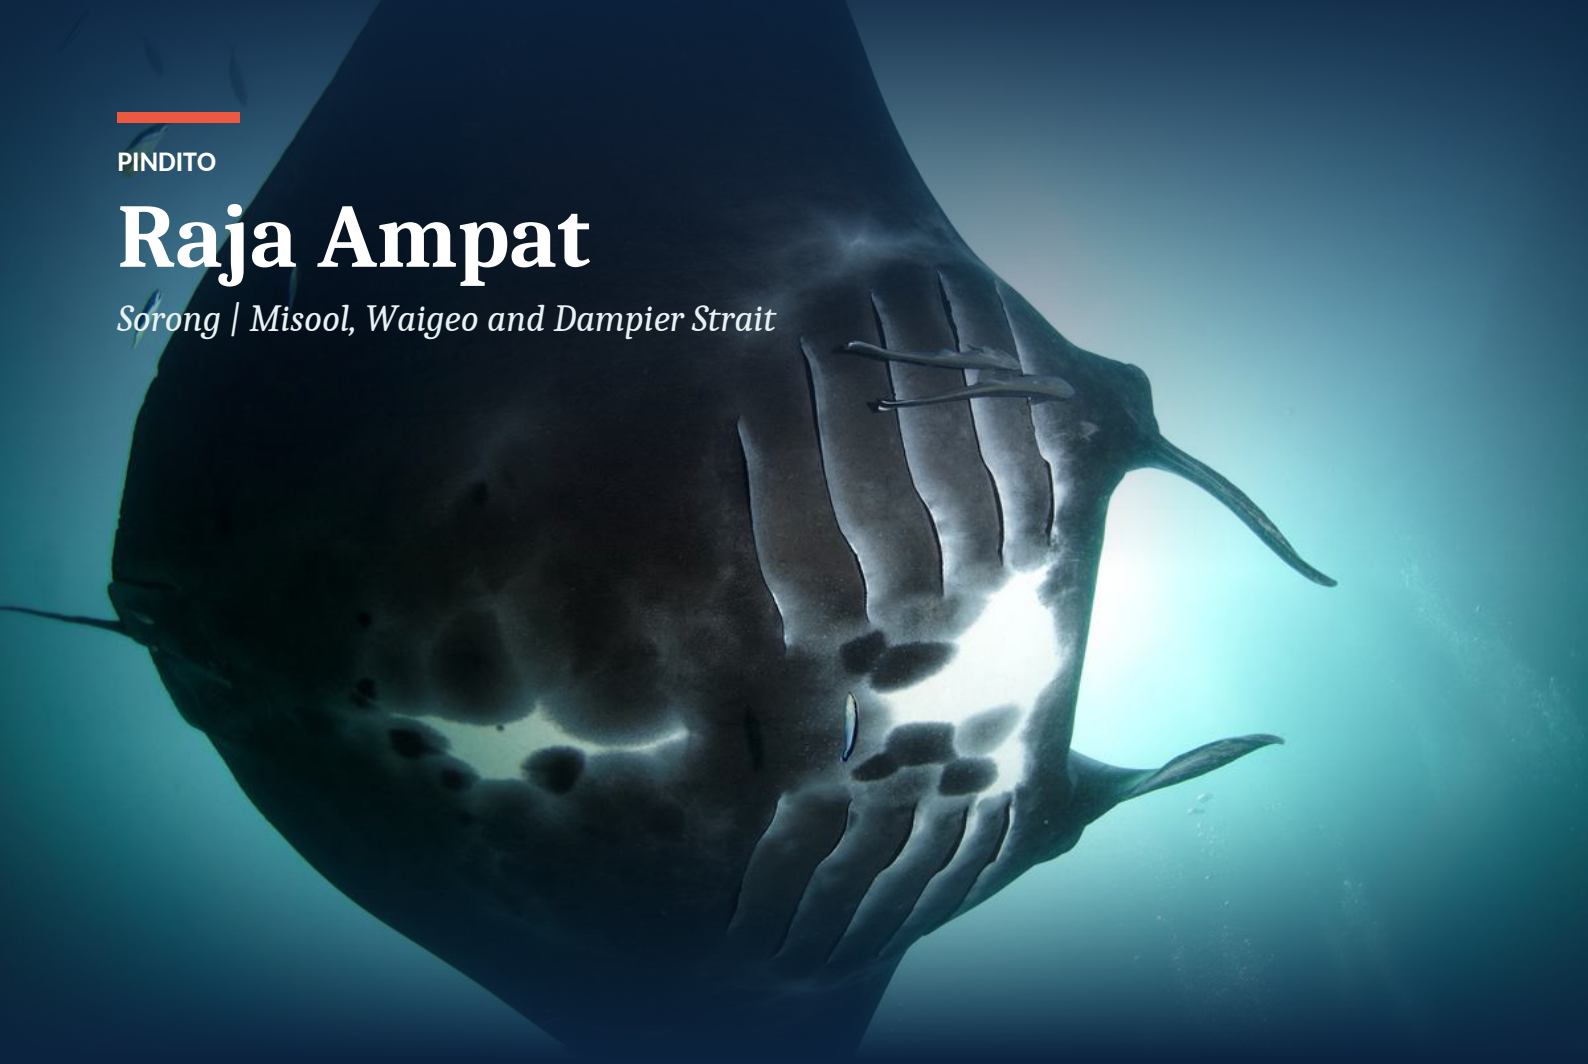
PINDITO

Raja Ampat

Sorong | Misool, Waigeo and Dampier Strait



Raja Ampat lies in the Coral Triangle, with pristine reefs reputed to be the most biodiverse marine habitat on Earth.

Schools of fusiliers and jacks sway in the currents, bumphead parrotfish chomp away at the corals, and shy Denise's pygmy seahorses hide among gorgonian coral.

Reef sharks patrol the reefs, alongside majestic mantas, rare wobbegong and epaulette walking sharks, and schools of big eye trevally and barracuda.

Misool's endless maze of islands is paradise for macro enthusiasts, with huge shoals of sardines and soft corals and sea fans three to four metres across.

Trip highlights

1

Marine life

Schools of fusiliers and jacks sway in the currents, bumphead parrotfish chomp away at the corals, shy Denise's pygmy seahorses hide among gorgonian coral and frogfish stay camouflaged. White, black and grey tip reef sharks patrol the reefs, with majestic mantas, rare wobbegong and epaulette walking sharks, and schools of big eye trevally and barracuda.

2

Edi and the dive sites

Edi is one of the real pioneers of Raja Ampat, having discovered numerous sites and made more dives in the area than almost anyone.
Pindito has hundreds of dive sites to choose from, the famous ones and some secret ones that only a few people know about.

3

Misool

Diving the endless maze of islands in Misool is paradise for macro enthusiasts, and encounters with manta rays are often possible.
Huge shoals of sardines are a highlight, and soft corals and sea fans three to four metres across in all sizes and colours dominate the underwater landscape.

4

Vrenelies Gärtli

One of Pindito's special places is the legendary dive site Vrenelies Gärtli, with overhangs, huge caverns with swim throughs and lush steep walls with all kinds of corals.

5

On land

A unique speedboat ride takes you through the beautiful scenery of Misool, with crystal clear turquoise water and exotic plants such as orchids and carnivorous plants.

GOOD TO KNOW

On land and on the way

Dampier Strait and Waigeo

Dampier Strait and Waigeo are among the frequently visited stop overs on Raja Ampat trips.
