SPIRIT OF THE MALDIVES

The Deep South Gan to Kooddoo

Gan to Kooddoo | Addu, Fuvahmulah and Huvadhoo

Huvadhoo Atoll is deep, current-swept channels with huge schools of pelagic fish, sharks and rays.

You reef hook on the corner to watch, then drift, and inside the atoll there are shallow reefs and macro life.

At night whale sharks may come to the lights at the back of the boat.

Fuvahmulah adds drift dives along a plateau where hammerheads, threshers, silvertips, grey reef sharks and tiger sharks are all frequent visitors.

The trip begins in Addu Atoll, with a wreck that is now a thriving reef and a manta cleaning station.
