

ILIKE

Raja Ampat - Maluku

Sorong to Ambon | Raja Ampat, the Banda Islands and Ambon

Ambon has some of the best muck diving in the world, and this trip reaches it by way of Raja Ampat and the remote Banda Sea.

Raja Ampat comes first, with seamounts, coral walls, gardens of giant sea fans and soft corals, and two species of manta ray.

The Banda Sea brings crystal clear water and bottomless drop-offs, and an active volcano has hundreds of sea snakes.

Then comes Ambon, where the water near Laha village feels like dusk even in daylight, and harlequin shrimp and flamboyant cuttlefish live in the gloom.

Rhinopias, the elusive psychedelic frogfish, is the highlight.

Your itinerary

DAY 1

Boarding

No dives

The crew transfer you from the airport or your hotel to the Ilike.
After a welcome briefing from the cruise director, cabins are allocated and you take a tour of the boat.
You can then set up your equipment and settle in before the Ilike sails.

DAY 2-5

Raja Ampat

3 to 4 dives a day

The first days are in Raja Ampat, with its enormous coral diversity.
Misool has seamounts, pinnacles, coral walls and gardens covered in giant sea fans and soft corals, and the Dampier Strait has cleaning stations, bigger predators such as giant trevallies and reef sharks, and two species of manta ray.

DAY 6

Crossing the Banda Sea

2 dives

The Ilike crosses the Banda Sea.
When crossing, only 2 dives a day can be scheduled.

DAY 7-9

The Banda Islands

3 to 4 dives a day

The Banda Sea is remote, with crystal clear water, bottomless drop-offs and colourful coral pinnacles.
After the 1988 eruption of Gunung Api the lava flowed into the sea, and a hard coral garden has grown back remarkably fast.
At dusk you can look for the mating dance of the colourful mandarin fish, frogfish, seahorses and octopus.
You can also visit the old town of Banda Neira, with its remains of the Dutch and English spice trade, an old nutmeg plantation and Fort Belgica, which has views of the port and Gunung Api.
Manuk is another active volcano, with seabirds and hundreds of sea snakes.

DAY 10

Nusa Laut

3 to 4 dives

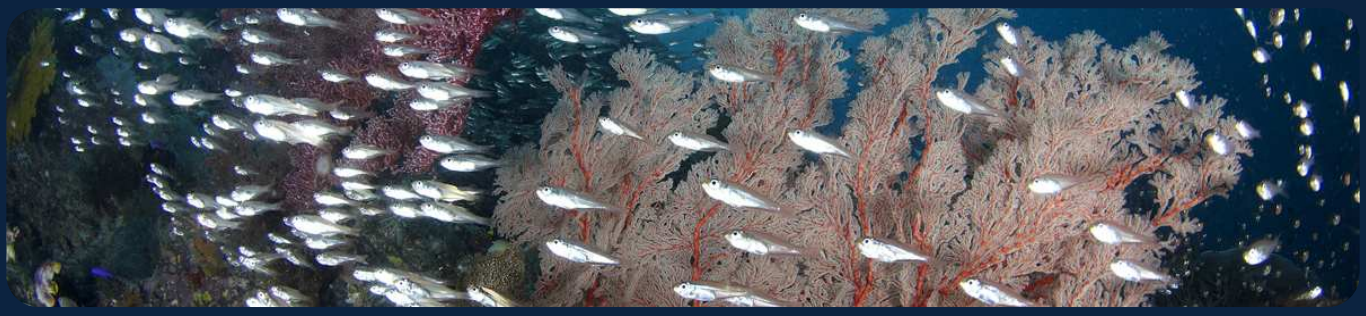

Nusa Laut has big schools of jacks, rainbow runners, tuna and Spanish mackerel, with a chance of bigger pelagics.
A small village protects the area from illegal fishing.

DAY 11

Ambon

3 to 4 dives

Ambon has some of the best muck diving in the world.
Twilight, in Laha village, feels like dusk even in daylight, and it is home to harlequin shrimp, hairy frogfish, flamboyant cuttlefish, seahorses and many kinds of octopus.
Rhinopias, the elusive psychedelic frogfish, is a highlight.
You can also dive the Duke of Sparta wreck, a steel English cargo ship that sank after a bomb strike in 1958, and the natural rock bridge of Pintu Kota, covered in soft corals.

DAY 12

Last diving day

1 to 2 dives

The last day of diving has 1 to 2 dives, and then the Ilike sails back to the harbour.
Keep to the no-flying rule, pack your gear and settle your bill.

Check out

After breakfast and check out, the crew prepare for disembarkation and arrange your transfer to the airport, with help at check in for your onward flights.
