RAJA AMPAT AGGRESSOR

Lembeh, North Sulawesi and Derawan

Bitung and Berau | Lembeh, Bunaken, Pangka and the Derawan Islands

Diving in Lembeh is unlike diving anywhere else, a muck diving mecca where every dive reveals countless critters on famous muck slopes.

Frogfish, octopus, pygmy seahorses, nudibranchs, wunderpus, mandarin fish and flamboyant cuttlefish all live here.

Bunaken has pristine hard corals on walls and slopes, with reef sharks, eagle rays and tuna passing by.

Then the Derawan Islands bring turtles and manta rays, whale sharks swimming under fishing platforms and tornadoes of barracuda.

A non-stinging jellyfish lake finishes it off.
