RAJA AMPAT AGGRESSOR

Raja Ampat

Sorong to Sorong | Dampier Strait, Fam, Mansuar and Misool

Raja Ampat combines the Dampier Strait, Fam and Mansuar with Misool, one of the most biodiverse regions in the world.

A manta cleaning station near Mansuar is a highlight, and the huge schools of fish near Farondi are another.

The reefs of Misool are rich and varied, with vertical walls, slopes, caves and lagoons, some covered with hard corals and others with brightly coloured soft corals, plus pygmy seahorses and gorgonians.

Strong currents in the Dampier Strait suit the big fish, from reef sharks to barracuda and tuna.

After dark, epaulette sharks that walk across the reef, wobbegongs, pipefish and frogfish come out under the jetties.
