WHITE PEARL

South and Central Atolls

Huvadhoo to Male | Huvadhoo, Laamu, Meemu, Vaavu and South Male

From the remote Huvadhoo Atoll to the channels of Male, this is a long sweep through the best of the southern and central Maldives.

Huvadhoo has vast swathes of healthy reef, swirling schools of big-eye trevally, nesting turtles and sharks from whitetips to the occasional hammerhead.

From January to April, spotlights draw plankton to the surface at night, and whale sharks come right up to feed while you slide in and swim alongside.

Laamu has pelagic-packed channels where scores of whitetip reef sharks hunt, and Meemu adds soft coral pinnacles and mantas.

Vaavu is the finale, with a night dive among blacktip sharks, nurse sharks and whiptail rays.

Where you dive

1

Huvadhoo Atoll

Dive sites: Villingili and Nilhanhoo kandu.
Huvadhoo Atoll is also known as Gaafu Atoll in the Maldives.
Huvadhoo splits more or less evenly between the inner lagoon and the outer reef.
Thanks to its remote location, the atoll offers vast swathes of healthy reefs, populated by impressive table corals and staghorns, although soft corals such as sea fans can also be seen.

2

Laamu Atoll

Dive sites: Fushi Kandu and Thaa Atoll and Olhugiri Kandu.
With only a few channels breaking the atoll's outer reef, the tidal flows in and out of the central lagoon can be intense - attracting plenty of marine life and ensuring great visibility.

3

Meemu Atoll

Dive sites: Muli Corner and Kurali Manta Point and Vanhuravalhi Kandu.
The northeast is peppered with submerged pinnacles covered predominantly with soft corals, while the western part will see you surrounded by jacks and snappers.
Keep an eye out for sharks and rays at 30 metres/98 feet!
Muli Corner is a haven for experienced divers seeking an exhilarating adventure.

4

Vaavu Atoll

Dive sites: Fotteyo Kandu and Miyaru Kandu and Alimathaa.
Even by Maldives' standards, Vaavu's channels are special, and Fotteyo Kandu is considered one of the best dive sites in the Maldives.
The narrow channel has swim-throughs, small caves and large overhangs to explore, as well as a drop-off covered in colourful soft corals.

5

South and North Malé

Dive sites: Kandooma Thila and Guraidhoo Corner.
South Male Atoll is famous for its current-swept channels and provides guests with a wide variety of stunning diving no matter their skill level and experience.

WORTH KNOWING

Key notes

Good to know

The sample plan visits the atolls in the order shown, and the days spent at each depend on the conditions

Good to know

Divers should have at least 100 logged dives, Nitrox certification and experience of diving in currents

Good to know

The Cruise Director and Captain choose the route and the dive sites to suit the weather, tides, currents and the number of other dive boats at a site. If bad weather stops the yacht reaching a site on time, alternative sites are offered. The safety of everyone on board comes first.
